ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

As a good corporate citizen, Megara recognises that we are responsible for the ways in which we use the earth's resources.

Our company is committed to understanding and minimising any harmful effects that our activities may have on the environment.

We believe that all employees have an important role to play in achieving our environmental objectives.

In order to achieve these objectives we will:

- Achieve a level of performance beyond that required for regulatory compliance
- Minimise waste, including landfill, by focusing on Reduce, Reuse, Recycle
- Measure and reduce our carbon emissions across all aspects of our operation
- Avoid toxic contamination of air, water and ground
- Include environmental considerations in our business management planning and reflect these as targets throughout our operations
- Implement an environmental management system which is measured and regularly reviewed
- Encourage and train all employees to identify and act upon opportunities to minimise negative environmental impacts
- Measure and reduce our use of finite resources such as water
- Share information and resources with our supply chain to foster a life-cycle approach across our business and theirs
